Changes to QTIS scheme earn positive reviews from state's breeders

Four-year-olds now eligible for lucrative Queensland breeder incentive as prize-money also increased

BY TIM ROWE | @ANZ_NEWS

Racing Queensland will boost its popular breeder incentive scheme to the tune of $1.4 million per year and make four-year-olds eligible for the lucrative bonuses while also increasing TAB race meeting prize-money levels across the state.

The governing body yesterday announced it would enhance QTIS, make the three-year-old Jewel (1200m) worth $500,000, and add a fillies and mares race to the Gold Coast meeting in March.

The funding was part of a wider three-code $15.5 million plan, which has the backing of the recently returned Queensland Labor government and will include increased prize-money for restricted Saturday metropolitan races, which are set to rise from $50,000 to $55,000, as South East Queensland provincial races are also upped by $1,000 to $22,000.

The Toowoomba meetings will also gain an extra $1,000 per race, bringing the total to $20,000.

Racing Queensland also announced:

- Five showcase South East Queensland provincial Queensland meetings with races worth $25,000 to be held each month;
- The P1 meetings, such as Townsville, Cairns, Mackay and Rockhampton, will have prize-money lifted by $500 to $18,500;
- The jockeys' riding fee will increase from $212 to $225 this financial year, at a cost of $590,000 per year, and to $230 from July 1, 2022; and
- $3.5 million to support key infrastructure projects this financial year, including on-course stabling to assist sustainability of clubs and horse numbers.

Craiglea Stud's Stan Johnston, vice-president of the Queensland Thoroughbred Breeders Association, welcomed the prize-money increases and the changes to the QTIS scheme.

"The four-year-old QTIS is really important. We have been advocating for it for a long time, but we haven't had the money and we accept that. I wouldn't be racing horses if we didn't have QTIS," Johnston told ANZ Bloodstock News yesterday.

"It is only natural that I am in favour of that. It is very important. It is the lifeblood of our breeding industry and that is why we are producing horses like Better Than Ready and Spirit Of Boom and it is why they are staying in Queensland."

Larrikin Johnston, who races a team of homebreds trained by his daughter Krystle, all of whom carry the moniker Craiglea, is a stalwart of the Queensland racing and breeding industry, particularly in the country.

"When we started going up north, I was the only one going up there with QTIS horses and now everyone's got a QTIS horse going to Rockhampton, Mackay, Townsville and Cairns," said Johnston, who is based near the Sunshine Coast.

"They never used to have QTIS horses as they'd all buy second-hand horses, but that's developed now and owners and trainers are looking for QTIS horses, and that's helped our breeding industry. Continued on page 3>>

"I used to go up there to Mackay and I had seven of seven, but now I am flat out getting in the race."

QTIS bonuses have been paid on two and three-year-old races for first, second and third with fillies receiving an extra 50 per cent, meaning a filly who lands a Saturday race can win approximately $80,000. Four-year-olds have now been added to the scheme.

Lyndhurst Stud principal Jeff Kruger, who stands Better Than Ready (More Than Ready) and Rothesay (Fastnet Rock), described the announcement as 'great news' but also warned that owners and trainers statewide needed to benefit from prize-money increases.

"Two- and three-year-old racing in the metropolitan area has been great for a couple of years, so much so that the Sydney trainers are bringing horses up here, particularly at this time of year for the summer carnival and Magic Millions," Kruger said.

"But Queensland has a lot of tracks - it has over 130 tracks statewide - and as long as everyone is getting a go because those guys in those regional areas are the lifeline supporting my stallions."

Kruger says Queensland trainers have long been strong supporters of QTIS and hopes the change will help incentivise more owners to back it by purchasing yearlings at the Magic Millions January and the March QTIS sales on the Gold Coast.

He said: "Most Brisbane and Toowoomba trainers tell me they only want QTIS horses. There is no point going around in two- and three-year-old races in Brisbane for half the prize-money that everyone else can go around for.

"Tony Sears, for one, I think has only got QTIS horses in his stable."

The move by Racing Queensland follows on from prize-money increases and a boost to SABOIS in South Australia, changes which came into effect on Tuesday.

"It is important that we provide all participants with the confidence to continue to work and invest within the Queensland racing industry," Racing Queensland chairman Steve Wilson said.

"As a result, we are providing strategic funding for our three codes,

- JEFF KRUGER

with a strong emphasis on commercial competitiveness at the grass roots and making Queensland attractive for all participants.

"These strategic investments are made possible thanks to the Palaszczuk government confirming that the Country Racing Program would be renewed for two further years from 2021, as well as the strong commercial performance of RQ amidst the global pandemic."

MORNING BRIEFING

AUSTRALIA

Boss celebrates 35 years in the saddle

Hall of Fame jockey Glen Boss will celebrate 35 years in the saddle at Rosehill today. The three-time Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m)-winning rider, who has risen to become one of the greats of the sport, had his first race ride at Gympie on December 6, 1985 and spent his first year predominantly competing on the south east Queensland country sprint circuit, where most races were staged over 300 and 400 metres. "For about the first twelve months of my career I didn't see a blade of grass. They were all dirt tracks," Boss said. The jockey marks the milestone with four rides at Rosehill today, including promising Godolphin colt Namazu (Medaglia D'Oro) in the De Bortoli Wines Handicap (1800m). "He's shown good promise and the Godolphin stable has a high opinion of this horse," Boss said. "He's getting up to 1800 metres for the first time and he's down in the weights. I expect he'll run very well." The 51-year-old, who has ridden over 2,300 winners and amassed in excess of $200 million in prize-money, has no thoughts of retirement just yet. "I still love it and you're a long time retired," he added.

Our Big Mike seeks second Pakenham Cup

Brett Scott is hoping to add another country cup to his recent haul with Our Big Mike (Don Eduardo), who is aiming to regain his Pakenham Cup (Listed, 2500m) crown after landing the contest in 2018 for New Zealand trainer Craig Phelan. He has been prepared by Scott this campaign and won the Moe Cup (2050m) in October, but was disappointing when finishing last of 16 in the Ballarat Cup (Listed, 2000m) last time out. "I think he would have beaten four or five and the run wouldn't have looked that bad except he was checked with 200 metres to go. He was beaten but he was still battling away," Scott said. "Still, I think he was outclassed in that sort of race but the Pakenham Cup is slightly easier." Our Big Mike will be reunited with jockey Noel Callow, who rode him to victory in the Moe Cup. "He'll go forward but Noel will have to keep an eye on Gai Waterhouse's Knights Order who also leads," Scott said. "We might have to take a sit on it, but that's up to Noel."

Quirky Night's Watch debuts for Alexander

Night's Watch (Redwood) will have his first start for Archie Alexander at Pakenham today, with the trainer hoping a change of scenery can allow the OTI Racing-owned seven-year-old to maximise his ability. The Group 1-placed Night's Watch landed the Neville Sellwood Stakes (Gr 3, 2000m) for Chris Waller earlier this year, demonstrating he still holds plenty of talent, and Alexander will be hoping to keep his quiriness under control. "I am really, really happy with him. The connections thought he might have needed a change, something different," Alexander told Racing.com. "He was performing well in Sydney, but he's an older horse, so maybe something different (might work). He worried me a little bit before he got here because I know he's had quirks and he is not straightforward. If you look at the gear list through his life and he's had every gadget, gear and theory on him. So I wasn't too confident, but touchwood, he has been really good so far. He's a nice, happy horse and his work has been good and his trials have been good. He has tried well and everything like that but get him on to a racetrack and it might be very different. So let's just see how we go."

Written Miss out to continue Jennings' hot streak

Caroline Jennings will be hoping to strike while the iron is hot at Pakenham today after recording four winners from her last five starters. Written Miss (Written Tycoon) will lead the charge for Jennings in the 1000-metre Benchmark 70 Handicap, with bookmakers having taken no chances by installing the three-year-old filly as the $3 favourite yesterday. She will be aiming to continue her unbeaten record after winning her Ballarat maiden by one and a quarter lengths on debut, which kicked off Jennings' winning streak. "It's been a long time for these horses to get ready, come up and get out. They're doing really well and I'm very pleased," Jennings told Racing.com. "We are just focusing on them (as an animal) and seeing what they need. Every horse I put out, I am confident and training for them to go out there and (run well). They're still surprising me. A number of them are quite competitive, which is great to see. I think it's hard to get a horse to the race track, it's definitely been a big learning curve to me and a challenge to get all the pieces of the puzzle right - to get them happy, fit and to find suitable races or them."

Dabernig: Safin to improve again

Safin (Snitzel), who was backed from $81 into as short as $19 when finishing 12th on his last start in the Haymarket Handicap (1400m) at Ballarat, is expected to come on for the run once again when lining up at Pakenham today. Lindsay Park co-trainer Tom Dabernig believed the six-year-old was well above the odds on his last start but is more cautious ahead of today's assignment. "The 1600 metres will suit him better and he, surprisingly, didn't have the speed at Ballarat but, on the way he went first-up, I'm certainly thinking he might be more ready to hit form third or fourth-up," Dabernig, who trains in partnership with Ben Hayes, told Racing.com. "He raced more like he needed the run so I'm hoping he'll run a better race, but he should be well placed going forward."

Bullion stalwart Amadeus out for third success

Eight-year-old Amadeus (Amadeus Wolf) will bid to regain his VOBIS Gold Bullion (1400m) crown and win the race for the third time at Pakenham today. The Mick Kent-trained entire, who won the 2017 and 2018 editions of the Gold Bullion, finished sixth on his seasonal reappearance at Kyneton last month and his owner-breeder Joan Walker believes he finds a little bit extra when lining up at Pakenham. "He had his first start at Pakenham, too, which he won, so he's got a fantastic record at Pakenham," Walker told Racing.com. "He obviously likes it there. But he probably knows I was born there. My father was the only doctor in the area at the time and the doctor's (practice) backed onto the old Pakenham racecourse, so I grew up in the area. He's probably not race-fit this time, just because of Covid and one thing or another, but he is looking very well."

Pakenham trio for McEvoy

Tony and Calvin McEvoy have opted for a three-pronged attack at Pakenham today, with Meteorite (Deep Field), Outlandos (Dissident) and Over Exposure (Rothesay) all lining up for the training partnership. Meteorite, who was beaten a length by Grandview Avenue (Statue Of Liberty) when sent off the red-hot $1.50 favourite on his latest start at Moonee Valley, appears to hold the best chance on paper for the duo, as Grandview Avenue boosted that form when subsequently landing the Carlyon Stakes (Listed, 1000m) last weekend. "I don't think he was disappointing once you saw the Carlyon Stakes last Saturday," Calvin McEvoy told Racing.com. "That horse (Grandview Avenue) was just too good for him on the night and then he backed it up and won the stakes race very impressively, so that gave us more confidence. He is in really good order and I think he's probably improved - he looks incredible - and in Benchmark 78 grade I think he'll be very hard to beat."

Nantucket aims for Pakenham follow-up

Last-start Bendigo winner Nantucket (Rubick) will set out on the path to February's $1 million Inglis Sprint (1200m) when he lines up in the opening Benchmark 70 Handicap (1000m) at Pakenham today. "It will be a really good test for him this weekend and he's strengthened and matured since his last run," trainer Levi Kavanagh told Racing.com of his three-year-old, who ran second on his first three outings last season in all three outings as a juvenile. "I've got a big prep planned for him and he put in a really solid effort to win his maiden having to run home over the top of them after the front two had tore ahead of the field, so I've just given him a few extra weeks to be back really ready for Saturday. I plan to get him out to 1200 metres this prep, but this race presented itself and he's just a small horse, a pocket rocket with a big heart, and because he'd dug deep first up I was happy to keep him at the 1000 metres."

Gollan bullish on Jonker ahead of Group 3

Tony Gollan has sounded an ominous warning to the rivals of Jonker (Spirit Of Boom) ahead of the George Moore Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) at Doomben today. Jonker was having his first start for Gollan when landing the Keith Noud Quality (Listed, 1200m) by four and a half lengths at Doomben last month, recording a track-record time, and the trainer believes he has come on for that performance. "He's only improved in the last three weeks," Gollan said. "Can he go any faster? I'm not sure but he probably doesn't have to. If he can go at the same speed or a smidgen slower he's still going to be very hard to beat. He's in great shape and I'm certainly looking forward to the race with him." Ridden by Jim Byrne, Jonker led from the front in the Keith Noud and those tactics will be used again despite the presence of fellow front-runner The Odyssey (Better Than Ready). "The positive from the other day was Jonker's intent from the get-go," Gollan said. "The Odyssey is a very quick horse during the first 100 metres of a race and Jimmy's intention will be to hold the lead if they begin with the gusto they're accustomed to. I'd be shocked if The Odyssey could cross him and Jimmy will not want that to happen."

Country stars set for Doomben

Several of Queensland's best country performers will appear in Saturday's Country Cups Challenge (1600m) and Country Stampede (1110m) finals at Doomben today. The Alex Malliff-trained Paniagua (Tycoon Ruler), who was purchased for just $600 in an online auction, will be aiming for his eighth-straight win in the Country Cups Challenge final after racking up $164,250 in prize-money. "I found him in an online auction. I was the first bidder one Sunday and nobody else bid on him," Malliff told the Courier Mail this week. "He'd had two starts and been beaten a combined 35 lengths, but I thought 'oh well, Tycoon Ruler's progeny generally get better as they get older' so I decided to see if there was anything worth working with. It didn't take long for the penny to drop. We thought his first two for us he was poorly ridden. His work has been pretty good and I really thought he was better than that so I decided to make a change with the pilot - he hasn't been beaten since." Of the other stars on show, Eschiele (Medaglia D'Oro) will take on Paniagua, while Muiron (Brazen Beau), District (Lonhro) and Raiden (Foxwedge) all line-up in the Stampede.

Sun aiming to shine in Kingston Town

Too Close The Sun (Carlton House) will aim to go one better at Group 1 level in the Kingston Town Classic (Gr 1, 1800m) at Ascot today having finished runner-up to Inspirational Girl (Reliable Man) on his sole elite-level appearance in the Railway Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) last month. The five-year-old gelding has risen through the ranks impressively this year and victory in the Ascot Gold Cup (Listed, 1800m) gave trainer Lindsey Smith confidence he can compete at the highest level. Smith, who initially had the son of Carlton House (Street Cry) down as a Mornington Cup (Listed, 2400m)-type horse, expects him to run well from barrier ten, which has provided the most winners in the history of the race.

Spirit steps out on carnival path at Rosehill

Jason Coyle was kicking himself after bypassing the spring carnival with St Covet's Spirit (Uncle Mo) after the two horses she split in the Hawkesbury Guineas (Gr 3, 1400m) in April, Dawn Passage (Dawn Approach) and Icebath (Sacred Falls), filled the placings in the $7.5 million Golden Eagle (1500m). "Anytime in Sydney is not easy but we made that decision to miss the carnival," Coyle said. "When I saw Icebath come out and place in the Golden Eagle I was kicking myself. It's a big prize-money race and you frank that form and she's (St Covet's Spirit) thereabouts." St Covet's Spirit has drawn barrier 16 for her second-up assignment in today's Quincy Seltzer Handicap (1350m) at Rosehill. Coyle is optimistic the best is still ahead for his four-year-old judging by her more settled demeanour. "She's a stronger horse but the main thing I'm looking for is a mental change," he said. "As a younger horse, especially as a spring three-year-old, she could be really aggressive, grab the bridle and make jockeys' jobs really difficult. But the work we've done with her, hopefully now it pays dividends as she gets older."

Portelli: Bullet 'better than ever'

Gary Portelli is hot on the chances of Single Bullet (Not A Single Doubt) in today's 1100-metre Benchmark 88 event at Rosehill following the six-year-old's successful trial at the track last month. Single Bullet, who took out the Pago Pago Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) in 2017, has not lived up to his early promise of late, but Portelli is confident he is good enough to bounce back. "We had a lot of issues with flat feet and seedy toe and he was never 100 per cent happy on hard tracks and he can't handle the wet," he told Racing NSW. "He needs a track that's coming off heavy into the slow range because he likes a bit of cushion. We spent six months in the paddock getting it right and he's 100 per cent in himself and just ready to run a good race. He had a beautiful trial and his work has been spot on. He's going to the races as an underdog from barrier one; look out I reckon he'll run a huge race."

Gower in search of Saturday double

Stuart Gower will try to secure a two-state double this weekend when he saddles Port Vale (Master Of Design) at Morphettville this afternoon before last-start Kyneton Cup (2000m) winner Mongolian Marshal (High Chaparral) lines up in the Werribee Cup (2000m) tomorrow. "Two starts ago he bumped into Bob Richard's smart horse Star Hills, who ran a track record in beating him a length," Gower told Racing.com of Port Vale, who is slated for the Terry Howe Printing Handicap over 1050 metres. "As for last start, well we know Li'l Kontra is a classy mare, but I don't think there is any doubt my bloke was a certainty beaten. He's rock-hard fit and I've just kept him ticking over with swimming and slow work." Of Mongolian Marshal, Gower added: "It was disappointing to miss a run with him in the recent Ballarat Cup when he was an emergency, but apart from that the horse hasn't missed a beat since Kyneton. He's come up with the visitor's draw and has a lot of weight with 62 (kilograms) on his back but I don't think Sunday's race is any tougher than at Kyneton. The horse travelled to Melbourne on Thursday night and is staying with Mathew Ellerton and Simon Zahra, who report he has arrived in good order. Beyond Sunday he will go to the paddock and at this stage next campaign we are thinking about sending him to Tasmania for the cups down there."

Trial star Anilla sold to HK

The Will Clarcken-trained Anilla (Valentia), who was set to make his racecourse debut today having sparkled with a brilliant trial victory at Morphettville Parks last week, will leave Australia having been sold to Hong Kong interests on Friday. The three-year-old, who is out of a half-sister to Al Quoz Sprint (Gr 1, 1200m) winner and Hong Kong champion griffin Amber Sky (Exceed And Excel), becomes the fifth horse from Clarcken's team to head to Hong Kong in 2020, following the earlier departures of Roccabascera (Fighting Sun), The Multiplier (The Factor), Iscariot (Zebedee) and Nova Force (Toronado). "The phone has been red hot with people wanting him and although I'm disappointed to lose another promising, talented galloper, the money was simply too good to refuse," Clarcken told Racing.com. "I must pay credit to David Jolly, who actually picked him out for me at the Magic Millions sale in Adelaide and we snared him for just $21,000."

Eustace outlines MM plans for older brigade

Co-trainer David Eustace has outlined plans for a number of older horses he and Ciaran Maher are set to run at the Magic Millions meeting at the Gold Coast in January. "Amish Boy and Away Game will go for the Guineas and Snapdancer will go for the 1300-metre mares race. She won well fresh the other day and she will go fresh into the race," Eustace told Racing.com. "Lagerfeld is running this weekend, possibly in Sydney, and we will try and get him in the sprint race. There should be a nice team up there." Away Game (Snitzel) won the Magic Millions 2YO Classic (RL, 1200m) this year and stable companion Fake Love (I Am Invincible) will try to repeat the dose in 2021. The promising juvenile ran fourth in the Ottawa Sakes (Gr 3, 1000m) second-up and she will follow the same route to the Gold Coast as Away Game by taking in the Calaway Gal Stakes (Listed, 1000m) at Eagle Farm on December 12.

Staples announced as AJA chairman

The Australian Jockeys Association (AJA) yesterday announced the appointment of Craig Staples as its chairman. A Group 1-winning rider, Staples has acted as president of the West Australian Jockeys Association (WAJA) since 2009 and has served as a director of the AJA for a number of years. He assumes the role with immediate effect, replacing the former incumbent Des O'Keeffe, who retired from the AJA at last Tuesday's AGM. "I'm delighted to accept the position of Chairman of the AJA. It will be an honour to lead a board responsible for furthering the interests of Australia's jockeys," Staples said. "I feel privileged to lead a united, professional and highly respected industry stakeholder group. The AJA has a long history of achieving outcomes in areas of national importance for Australia's jockeys. In addition, it is there to provide high level support and guidance for Australia's state jockey associations whenever needed. I'm very much looking forward to working closely with our CEO Martin Talty and the AJA board so that we continue to deliver significant outcomes for our members."

Uncertainty over Werribee future

The University of Melbourne is reportedly considering changes to the services it provides at Werribee equine centre, with The Herald Sun suggesting that U-Vet Werribee Animal Hospital is believed to be seeking 11 redundancies from the 50 academics who teach trainee vets. The equine centre is a crucial part of the Victorian racing industry as well as providing the quarantine and training base for international contenders ahead of the spring carnival. "The University of Melbourne Equine Centre at Werribee is an important facility that provides exceptional care and treatment to both local and international thoroughbred racehorses, and a facility racing and Racing Victoria relies upon to provide good welfare outcomes for our horses on many levels," a Racing Victoria spokesperson told Racing.com. "We will await the outcomes of the University's proposed change plan for the hospital before providing further comment." In a statement given to The Herald Sun, a University of Melbourne spokeswoman said: "Staff are currently being consulted on a proposed change plan for U-Vet Werribee Animal Hospital as part of the University's response to the impact of Covid-19. There are no plans to stop providing oncology services or to close U-Vet Werribee Equine Centre. Any decisions that might affect how any services are delivered will be made early next year."

Avdulla exonerated over Starlight fifth

No further action will be taken against Brenton Avdulla for his ride on Starlight Stakes (Listed, 1100m) fifth Passage Of Time (Northern Meteor), but stewards have issued a stern warning to the leading jockey with regards to his future conduct in the saddle. During a heated inquiry into Avdulla's ride at Rosehill last Saturday, stewards questioned his lack of vigour on the $41 chance in the closing stages. Avdulla subsequently excused himself from the inquiry and left the stewards room before the matter was reconvened prior to the opening race at Randwick's twilight program yesterday. Avdulla apologised to stewards for his prior behaviour, while an examination of betting activity on the race showed no abnormalities and Wade Birch, senior stipendiary steward at Racing NSW, said stewards considered a number of circumstances in determining not to lay charges against Avdulla. He said video footage showed Passage Of Time had peaked on his run inside the final 100 metres, while the horse also clocked one of the fastest final 200-metre sectional times of the day. "Had those surrounding circumstances not have been present, it's likely that you'd be facing a charge for not taking all reasonable and permissible measures as the rider of that horse to ensure it obtained the best finishing place," Birch told Avdulla. "I just want to make sure you're in no doubt about what we expect of top riders like yourself. We expect you to be at your best and the racing fans are also entitled to see that."

Perfect Qld return for Rodd

Michael Rodd couldn't have asked for a better return to his home state yesterday, partnering debutant La Ready Rosa (Better Than Ready) to victory in an 800-metre maiden at Ipswich. Even more fittingly, the filly is trained by his former boss Tony Gollan. "He's ridden plenty of winners for me in the past and to have him back here and riding another one straight off the bat is a great sign," Gollan told Racing.com. "Hopefully it's the first of many more because he's going to be a welcome addition back into the Queensland riding ranks." Rodd - who returned to Brisbane after a globetrotting career that has seen him win most of Australia's biggest races, including the Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) and Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m), as well as many of Singapore's features - has four rides at Doomben today, including Outback Barbie (Spirit Of Boom) in the George Moore Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) and Freya's Cloak (The Factor) in the Mode Plate (Listed, 1200m).

Price back in the saddle

Simon Price will be aiming for the unusual day-to-day double of wins at Mudgee and Morphetville in the space of 24 hours after he partnered the Sam Kavanagh-trained Dancing Dollar (Wandjina) to victory at the country NSW track yesterday. The South Australian jockey was last night making the trek back to his home state to ride Sharon Hayes' Big Effort (Reward For Effort) at Morphetville today, with the two rides his first since riding Jirnaas (More Than Ready) at Taree on July 28. "(Paul Gatt) has been trialling the horse for Sharon but he is out suspended on the weekend," Price told Racing.com. "I've had a lot to do with the horse in his career and actually been on him in four of his five victories. He's a talent but obviously he's had his problems and is only lightly raced for an eight-year old." Price, who is now based at Muswellbrook working with Kavanagh, will make his first trip home in quite some time and is excited to be reunited with his family. "In particular it's going to be nice to catch up with two of my three kids, Abby and Ben. As for my other one, Will, well I see plenty of him on Racing.com," said a proud Price.

Tote Park launched at Moonee Valley

The new entrance to Moonee Valley racecourse, Tote Park, was launched last night, with the 5,000 square-metre green space featuring tributes to Manikato (Manihi) and Winx (Street Cry). The green space, which features hundreds of plants and is available for community events and activities, is the first step in the Moonee Valley Racing Club's long-touted masterplan and is situated in front of the original 1931 tote building. While the Winx statue was unveiled on Cox Plate day in October, the Manikato memorial was unveiled last night with the champion's regular jockey Gary Willetts in attendance. "It's a fantastic honour to him, he really was a champion who had a great will to win and he loved racing here at Moonee Valley, as did I," Willetts told Racing.com. MVRC chairman Don Casboults hopes that the space will allow for greater engagement between the racecourse and the wider public. "We're so excited to launch Tote Park, the club has been a part of the local community for around 140 years, so we're thrilled to be able to now have this space to offer for the benefit of the community," he said. "It is a great representation of the old and the new, the history and the heritage of our club. It's the beginning of our masterplan and it's very special to have this step complete with a brand-new entrance to the club and the special tributes to legends of our track in Winx and Manikato."

Jockey weights to return to normal

The new year will ring in something of a return to normality as jockey weights in Victoria return to their pre-Covid levels. As of January 1, the standard scale will return to a 60-kilogram top-weight on a minimum of 54 kilograms, with Flemington's Standish Handicap (Gr 3, 1200m) and Bagot Handicap (Listed, 2800m) on New Year's Day the first stakes handicaps to be run under those conditions since the Mornington Cup (Listed, 2400m) and Hareeba Stakes (Listed, 1200m) on March 21. The decision was made after consultation with the Australian Trainers' Association and the Victorian Jockeys' Association. One change that Racing Victoria did announce yesterday was the weight scale for Benchmark 58 races will be increased by two kilograms, ensuring a minimum eight-kilogram weight spread for those races.

NEW ZEALAND

Explosively set for Bonecrusher as sales fall through

With an overseas sale off the agenda for now, Stephen Ralph is free to dream big with highly talented three-year-old Explosively (Sweynesse) - starting with a first black-type test in today's Bonecrusher Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m) at Ellerslie. Offshore offers have circled throughout this spring, following an impressive four-length trial win at Taupo in early October and an equally emphatic performance on debut at Te Rapa last month. "A sale to Hong Kong fell through after that trial win because one of his hocks failed their strict vetting," Ralph said. "There was another offer from Australia after he won at Te Rapa, which was accepted subject to vet clearance. We disclosed to those buyers what had happened with the Hong Kong offer, and after doing their own inspections and x-rays, they declined to carry on with the deal. So we've still got him to race, which is fantastic for us. I was at the races when that news came through via text, and I said to Jamie Richards, 'Imagine how good this horse could be if he had good hocks?' We haven't seen it as an issue with him at any stage in his preparation. He's been 100 per cent sound all the way through. It's really cool that we've been able to hang on to him."

Innes pleased to climb aboard Belltree

Leith Innes has a quality book of rides at Ellerslie today,, including promising three-year-old Jason Belltree (Ferlax) in the day's feature, the Bonecrusher Stakes. The Bruce Wallace and Grant Cooksley-trained three-year-old has won two of his three starts to date and was denied by a nose at Ellerslie two starts ago when beaten by Power On (Power) in a sit-and-sprint affair. Innes rode the colt for the first time when successful at Counties over 1200 metres last start. "He's a horse that is aiming towards the Derby," Innes said. "I rode him on Tuesday morning and his work was first-class. There are a couple of nice horses in there like Moana that will be hard to roll, but he is a great chance. He has had a race around Ellerslie before and he handled it well two starts ago, so I'm very happy to be riding him." Jason Belltree is a solid second choice at $3.80 behind Moana (Ocean Park), who has been backed into $2.50 with TAB after opening at $3.80.

Times Ticking ready for Captain Cook test

Alby MacGregor has always been proud of his Scottish heritage, so much so that his horses sport the family tartan on raceday. While the colours have had success over the years, they are yet to win at elite level, and MacGregor is hoping that will change at Trentham today when Times Ticking (Tavistock) contests the Captain Cook Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m). While MacGregor has tasted Group 1 glory as a trainer, courtesy of Fritzy Boy (Brilliance), he said he would dearly love to get that elusive top-tier victory with his own colours. "They have been good colours, they have won some good races, like the Grand National," he said. "The Group 1 (of Fritzy Boy's) was in my partner's colours." MacGregor will head south to Trentham from his Opaki base in good spirits believing he has his runner in peak condition. Times Ticking has won two of his last three starts and MacGregor said if it wasn't for interference his charge would have finished a lot closer than fourth at Awapuni last start. "He got badly interfered with at the post and shot out the back," MacGregor said. "He wasn't far off them, but he would have been a lot closer had he not had that interference. He is still a little bit green, but he is learning the trade as he goes along. On his other runs he should go alright on Saturday. He tries hard and he has a fair amount of ability."

Marine bound for Hong Kong

The Michael and Matthew Pitman-trained Marine (Ocean Park) has been sold to clients of Hong Kong trainer Caspar Fownes and will spend his future in the Asian racing jurisdiction. The three-year-old has had just four starts, winning on debut before placing behind Zoltan (Iffraaj) when racing greenly. Runner-up in the War Decree Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) behind Vitesse Bo (Proisir), Marine over-raced in the early and middle stages of the New Zealand 2000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m), clipping the heel of rival Lord Ardmore (Reliable Man) and nearly dislodging rider Michael McNab, yet remarkably still finished third behind Aegon (Sacred Falls). The gelding, who was part-owned by Diane Pitman, follows Guineas runner-up Bourbonnaire (Darci Brahma) who has also recently been sold to Hong Kong. "He has been sold," Michael Pitman confirmed. "He is a lovely horse with a lot of upside, and I hope he does well for his new connections."

Former Hong Kong stars begin new career

Trentham racecourse will host the first appearance of NZ Thoroughbred Racing (NZTR) welfare ambassadors Werther (Tavistock) and Ping Hai Star (Nom Du Jeu) today. The duo, both former Hong Kong Derby (Listed, 2000m) winners, are retired from racing and currently enjoy life as "nannies" at Palmerston North's Highden Park. Libby Bleakley, who along with husband Sam owns Highden Park, was delighted the geldings would be given the opportunity to promote horse welfare and the many opportunities available for retired thoroughbreds. "These horses love having something to do, they love having a job. They look after weanlings for us and they go on the truck to keep mares company, and I think they will thrive with this next step," she said. Werther, a dual Hong Kong Horse of the Year, and Ping Hai Star, who fashioned a brilliant record from a limited career in Hong Kong, will be paraded after the second race at Trentham, around 1.20pm. Online bloodstock sales company gavelhouse.com is also supporting the welfare ambassadors having decked both horses out with custom-made halters.

Changes announced to prize-money distribution

Following consultation with clubs and recognised industry organisations regarding the payment of prize-money down to 14th place, the New Zealand Thoroughbred Racing (NZTR) Board has decided to maintain the current prize-money policy from February 1, with an amendment for races worth more than NZ$15,000. The continuation of the policy gained strong support from the Racing Club Advisory Group, which recognised the flexibility this provided regarding adding races where demand required. However, there was also acknowledgement of the fact that there may be a better way to distribute prize-money to reward those filling minor placings. Currently, in all races, first is awarded 54 per cent, second 15 per cent, third seven per cent, fourth four per cent, and fifth through 14th two per cent. For races at NZ$15,000 or below, this will remain the same. For those at a higher stakes level, though, the formula will change, increasing the prize for second to 17.5 per cent, third 8.5 per cent and fourth five per cent while dropping fifth through 14th to 1.5 per cent. When a race has a starting limit of 14 or more, but there are fewer than 14 runners, the prize-money for the placings not filled is retained by NZTR. This prize-money saved has, thus far, been used to help fund over 50 races which have been added to the schedule, as well as the cost of two additional race meetings.

ASIA

SIN: High hopes for Ablest Ascend

Leading trainer Michael Clements is relatively confident Ablest Ascend (Charm Spirit) won't be without a say in the Singapore Golden Horseshoe (Listed, 1200m) today. While Ablest Ascend is unlikely to win any award for the best "juvenile" to have popped out of the Kranji nursery ever since the two-year-old series were created in the 2000s, he probably weighs in on a level pegging with a batch that is no vintage crop either this year. The Singapore racing calendar was not spared from the spanner Covid-19 has thrown in the works around the world, and among the big races rescheduled or rejigged, the traditional finale to the Singapore Golden Horseshoe series is this year downgraded to a standalone event and is held five months later, hence the change of age conditions to three-year-olds for southern hemisphere-breds. As a result, planning for the two-year-old races had been a challenge for most participants. "It's a race I've never won. When Kiwi Karma won (in 2014), she was then trained by Laurie Laxon," said the Zimbabwean-born Clements, whose comfortable cushion of an 11-win lead on defending champion Mark Walker (55 versus 44 winners) puts him just four meetings away from his first Singapore champion trainer title. "This year has been difficult to plan for young horses. This horse ran in Australia and came here with a rating. He didn't go well first-up, so we gelded him and he won second-up nicely. He was then competitive in a Class 4 race. He is a progressive type and things seem to have fallen into place with the Golden Horseshoe coming up at the right time. Some horses have got stronger, but the timing of the race may not have been right for others. It's not a particularly strong race this year, it actually looks more like a Class 4 race. My horse is in good shape. He's drawn well in four and that should help him get a good run in transit."

HK: IR champions return to defend their crowns

Two of Japan's three winners from last year's Hong Kong International Races (HKIR) will return to defend their titles on December 13 with Admire Mars (Daiwa Major) and Win Bright (Stay Gold) set for the Hong Kong Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) and Hong Kong Cup (Gr 1, 2000m) respectively. Admire Mars missed much of the first half of 2020 after the Dubai World Cup meeting was cancelled and he has only had three starts this year, including a game third last time out in the Mile Championship (Gr 1, 1600m) at Hanshin. "He has had two solid runs so far, so we have him set up to peak in Hong Kong. I think he is physically better this year than he was last year when he won," trainer Yasuo Tomomichi said. "Christophe Soumillon is set to ride him again." Win Bright joined Jim And Tonic (Double Bed), Vengeance Of Rain (Zabeel) and Designs On Rome (Holy Roman Emperor) as the only horses to win Sha Tin's big 2000-metre double, the QE II Cup (Gr 1, 2000m) and the Hong Kong Cup, in the same calendar year in 2019. This will be his final start. "The horse is doing quite well, much like last year. He wasn't quite at his best leading up to the Tenno Sho Autumn, even more so this year with so much time between races," trainer Yoshihiro Hatakeyama said. "Then again, just like last year, he came out of the Tenno Sho Autumn in fantastic condition, so we are pleased that we have the opportunity to race again in Hong Kong despite the pandemic. He has missed so much racing this year, it would be a shame not to be able to run him when he is at peak fitness." He went out today with his jockey for his final work in Japan, and he is a completely different horse from where he was a month ago. He is in a similar place physically now as he was last year - we will try our best and hope to make his last run a winning one."

HK: Size hopes history repeats with Waikuku

John Size is banking on Waikuku's (Harbour Watch) class to offset a lengthy absence from competition as the 11-time champion trainer prepares to launch an audacious tilt on the Hong Kong Mile. Waikuku will have been off the scene for 231 days before he throws down the gauntlet to a galaxy of star milers, notably Golden Sixty (Medaglia d'Oro), Japan's 2019 winner Admire Mars, dual Hong Kong Mile champion Beauty Generation (Road To Rock) and Breeders' Cup Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) victor Order Of Australia

(Australia). "He's making progress. He's healthy and well and happy to train," Size said after Waikuku posted a trial win at Sha Tin yesterday. "He's making some progress so go to the races and just hope he gets a sweet run. He might grab some prize-money. He's first-up for a long time and he's had some interruptions but if you could get some prize-money, I'm sure we'd be happy with that and we could proceed to the Stewards' Cup." Size contrived a Hong Kong Mile miracle with Glorious Days (Hussonet) in 2013 by prevailing after a long layoff, almost repeating the feat with Luger (Choisir) in the 2016 Stewards' Cup (Gr 1, 1600m). But the Australian handler acknowledges the difficulty of succeeding at the highest level without race fitness. "Luger had a long break and got beaten an inch and Glorious Days had a long break and he won the race, this race," Size said. "They're the only two I can remember. I don't think you can do much, you've just got to follow your programme and hope that on the day the class of the horse is normally the deciding factor in any race. So, he's got plenty of quality. He'll probably help you out."

HK: Teetan 'hungry' as ever ahead of International Jockeys' Championship defence

A determined Karis Teetan will defend his Longines International Jockeys' Championship crown next Wednesday at Happy Valley against 11 world-class rivals as he bids to become the second back-to-back winner of the challenge. "I won it last year - it's made me hungry to try and win it again this year, so I will be giving it my best," Teetan said. Teetan will look to join fellow South African Jockey Academy graduate Douglas Whyte (2007 and 2008) as successful defenders of their IJC title. The Mauritian secured his first in 2019 with a hugely consistent effort across the four-race spectacular, taking home the coveted silver whip and first prize of HK$500,000 (approx.

AUD$87,000). "I wouldn't say I was nervous but I definitely felt the pressure - we're human and it did get to me, it's the world's biggest stage and you've got all these top jockeys around you from the world," Teetan said. "I would say winning the challenge helped me even in Hong Kong, more owners have seen me on the big stage and trainers have noticed, even now and it's a big challenge and of course to win it was something really special. It's one of the biggest events for jockeys around the world, and last year you saw how many people travelled to Hong Kong for the week and the weekend of the international races at Sha Tin."

INTERNATIONAL

71 for Sea The Stars

Boerhan (4 g ex Greenisland by Fasliyev) preserved his unbeaten record in the UAE and became the 71st individual stakes winner for Sea The Stars (Cape Cross) when he took out the National Day Cup (Listed, 1600m) at Abu Dhabi yesterday. Formerly trained in Newmarket by William Haggas, the four-year-old is now in the care of Nicholas Bachalard, and he built on the promise of his first-up success over course and distance last month when getting the better of a thrilling three-way finish under Ryan Curatolo. Medahim (Kodiac) ran second, beaten a short-head, with the same margin back to Mailshot (Hard Spun) in third. A half-brother to the Listed winner Shamshon (Invincible Spirit), being out a Listed-placed half-sister to last season's European champion two-year-old filly Millisle (Starspangledbanner), 270,000gns yearling Boerhan has now won three of his nine starts. The outstanding Sea The Stars, sire of Stradivarius, Crystal Ocean, Sea Of Class and Taghrooda among a plethora of top-tier winners, will stand at the Aga Khan's Giltown Stud in Ireland for a fee of €150,000 (approx. AUD$245,000 in 2021).

UK: Sussex Stakes hero Mohaather the headline act as Shadwell unveil fees

Shadwell have unveiled fees for their four-strong Nunnery Stud stallion roster in 2021, with exciting new recruit Mohaather (Showcasing) introduced at £20,000 (approx. AUD$38,000). The son of Showcasing (Oasis Dream) won five races in the colours of Hamdan Al Maktoum while under the care of Marcus Tregoning. He was an impressive winner of the Horris Hill Stakes (Gr 3, 7f) at two and returned at three to land the Greenham Stakes (Gr 3, 7f). He produced not only a career-best, but one of the most impressive performances of 2020, when overcoming trouble in running to defeat a high-class field, including Circus Maximus (Galileo), Kameko (Kitten's Joy) and Siskin (First Defence), in the Sussex Stakes (Gr 1, 1m) at Goodwood in August. The second most expensive member of the Nunnery Stud roster is Muhaarar (Oasis Dream), whose fee has been trimmed into £10,000 (approx. AUD$19,000). The exceptional sprinter has been represented by the likes of Prix de Lutece (Gr 3, 3000m) scorer Paix this season, while he has supplied 18 European two-year-old winners. Shadwell will also stand Tasleet (Showcasing) and Eqtidaar (Invincible Spirit) at £5,000 each (approx. AUD$9,500) in 2021.

Banmi tops low-key finish to Tattersalls December Mares Sale at 21,000gns

BY JAMES THOMAS | RACING POST

After the first three days of the Tattersalls December Mares Sale saw 114 lots fetch six figures or more, a list headed by the 2,200,000gns (approx. AUD$4,182,000) Beach Frolic (Nayef) bought by MV Magnier, proceedings proved rather more low key during Thursday's concluding session.

The top lot commanded a price of just 21,000gns (approx. AUD$40,000), with Paul Thorman playing the winning hand while stood outside in the pouring rain. The lot in question was Banmi (Kodiac), a three-year-old daughter of Kodiac (Daneshill) consigned by Christine Dunnett's College Farm Stables.

Howson and Houldsworth Bloodstock's name appeared on the docket, with Thorman acting on behalf of Geoffrey Howson, who later said: "We've bought her for a French client. She was quite small but she has speed in the pedigree and that's what the client wanted. The Kodiac over Night Shift cross was very appealing too.

"I don't know who she'll be covered by yet but she's going to be a broodmare and as she's heading to France she'll visit a stallion in Normandy."

Bred by Tally-Ho Stud, the filly is out of the winning Night Shift (Northern Dancer) mare Fingal Nights and is a half-sister to five winners, including the Listed-placed Moonlight Garden (Exceed And Excel). Banmi won one of her 14 starts, with her Chelmsford maiden success gained while she was in training with Mohamed Moubarak.

Final figures

The four-day December Mares Sale concluded with turnover of 43,111,900gns (approx. AUD$82,000,000), down 25 per cent; an average of 58,655gns (approx. AUD$111,500), down 32 per cent; and a median of 20,000gns (approx. AUD$38,000), which was down 26 per cent on the 27,000gns generated last year.

However, the clearance rate went in the opposite direction, with 735 of 866 presented lots - a seven per cent increase on last year's offering - finding a buyer at a clip of 85 per cent, up from 82 per cent 12 months ago.

The three sections of the December Sale, comprising yearlings, foals and mares, saw 1,799 lots offered, of which 1,485 found a buyer for a combined clearance rate of 83 per cent.

In turn, those transactions brought turnover of 73,353,300gns (approx. AUD$140,000,000), down 20 per cent year-on-year; an average of 49,395gns (approx. AUD$94,000), down 21 per cent; and a median of 20,000gns, down 20 per cent.

Internet bidding proved a key component of the December Mares Sale, with Tattersalls reporting that 1,637 online bids were accepted, while 136 lots were sold online to 75 different bidders. Those sales saw 3,091,000gns (approx. AUD$5,595,000) worth of stock change hands, while a further 128 lots were underbid online.

The end of the December Sale also brought Tattersalls' 2020 to a close. The 14 key dates at Park Paddocks, beginning with the February Sale and ending with the December Mares Sale, saw 6,145 lots come under the hammer, with 5,236 of those (85 per cent) changing hands.

Those transactions resulted in an annual turnover of 260,907,700gns (approx. AUD$496,000,000), down by 14.6 per cent on the 305,521,400gns generated by 5,068 sold lots in 2019.

Chairman's statement

At the close of trade Tattersalls' chairman Edmond Mahony said: "Traditionally at the conclusion of the Tattersalls December Mares Sale we would reflect upon the level of trade, both at the December Sales and earlier sales, and also record our thanks and appreciation to all those who have contributed throughout the year.

"In this strangest of years our thanks to all concerned is an even more central message, but we should start by expressing heartfelt gratitude on behalf of the wider industry that the 2020 Tattersalls December Sales, Europe's foremost foal and breeding stock sales, have been able to take place, under strict Covid-related protocols, on the advertised dates and with the minimum of disruption to the established cycle of the bloodstock sales season.

"We have been able to bring a testing sales season to a successful conclusion and for that we are enormously grateful. While the usual vibrancy associated with this annual showcase of Europe's finest breeding stock has, by necessity, been lacking, we have again been buoyed by the sustained resilience of the market and the extraordinary determination of buyers from throughout the world who have contributed to yet another 2020 Tattersalls sale which has defied the prevailing social and economic uncertainty.

"In addition to the obvious issues, we were conscious that this year's December Mares catalogue lacked a little of the depth of recent renewals, but nevertheless quality consignments from Britain, Ireland and France have attracted buyers from throughout the world who have been active at all levels of the market, as ever demonstrating the enduring appetite for quality European bloodstock."

He continued: "While the undoubted highlight of the week was the 2,200,000gns sale of Highclere and Floors Studs' outstanding broodmare Beach Frolic to MV Magnier, encouragement can also be taken from the consistent global participation, with buyers from America, France, Japan, Kuwait, Qatar and the UAE all featuring amongst the leading buyers, alongside new and established British and Irish investors.

"Buyers from throughout Europe, the Gulf region, Australasia, India, Kazakhstan, Libya, Morocco, Pakistan and Turkey have also been active, and a particular feature of the sale has been the prolific use of the live internet bidding facility, which has allowed so many buyers unable to attend in the usual manner to participate successfully. More than half of the lots offered this week have attracted internet bids and it has been notable that the online action has been at every level of the market, including the very top end.

"The implementation of the live internet bidding platform is a perfect illustration of how all involved in this industry have successfully adapted and responded to circumstances outside their control, as is the mutual cooperation with our counterparts at Goffs and Arqana which has allowed us all to adjust sales dates when needed."

Mahony added: "We have staged an unprecedented 16 sales at Park Paddocks since the end of June and after every one of them we have reflected on the admirable patience and determination which everyone has shown to overcome unprecedented obstacles. The world has been thrown into turmoil, but every single participant at our 2020 sales should be applauded for the manner in which they have accepted the demands presented by the global pandemic.

"Few will look back on the 2020 Tattersalls sales season with pleasure, but they can look back with pride and our thanks go to each and every one who has contributed to a Tattersalls sales season of remarkable resilience."
